近字A Sewing Machine has been invente ed in Boston, the only one that has evebeen put in successful operation. It is described as follows:

PRICE ONE CENT.

"To sew the scams of pantaloons, the cloth is fastened to a bar, so constructed as to obviate the necessity of hasting .-This bar, with the cloth attached, is moved phorizontally in front of the needle, by means of a feed motion, which measures with accuracy the length of the stitches .--The motion can easily and instantly be so adjusted as to make longer or shorter stitches, at the will of the operator. The needle which has its eye in the point, or very near t-is driven through the cloth, by means of a pecutiarly formed cam. The threadwhiel: runs from a spool through, the end of a spring, so that it can be tightened at pleasure—passes with the point of the needle through the cloth, till it is caught by a hook on the other side. The hook holds the thread in a peculiar manner, forming it into a loop, until the needle has passed out and been again driven through—the bar upon which the cloth is, having in the mean time been moved along the length of one stitch. The hook then drops its first hold and again seizes the thread-which has now passed through the loop-and repeats the process; thus interweaving the thread so as to form a uniform and substantial stitch, such as the ladies call a chain stitch. From 250 to 300 stitches can be taken in this way in a minute; and one machine can do, and do well, the work of six and perhaps eight scamstressas."

The Vadual Benefit Life Insurance Company, is authorized by itscharter to make all and every Insurance appertaining to or connected with Life risks, of whatsoever kind or nature, and will grant risks, of whatsoever sind or nature, and wing data annuities and make endo vinents, as by the Act of Incorporation, passed the 30th January, 1845.

The Directors of this Company, deeply impressed with the very great, useful, and growing importance to the community at large of Life Insurance, would call the attention of the public to the following observations and principles, as intended to explain to them its peculiar advantages, and the particular features of this valuable institution. It 14 seen above how extensive the privileges are reaching to every risk appertaining to or connected with life; guarding and supporting infancy to old age, in all grades of professions and trades; orphans, widows and their children, by a small annual investment, on the principle of Aluthul Beaghts, arising from Mutual Insurance, being a selfprotective society. In this there is no Money Stock; the funds or capital arise from premiums paid in when persons make insurance, and these paid in when persons make payments on policies, from the means to make payments on policies, grant loans, pay expenses, and yield profits. All persons insured become members, but are not liable beyond the amount of the premiums to be paid by them. The backs of the company are open to them, to see that the sums paid, or securities re ceived, are deposited or in ested according to the charter, and the nett profits, at fixed periods, are divided among them, as hereafter explained. The divided among them, as hereafter explained. The table of figures, and the rules, are made and calculated with accuracy, after the experience and ractice of old English companies, and all pers can see by them how much clary have to pay, and the gains they will be likely to receive. This plan parlaces of the Savings Hand and Andual Inter-ests, affording the security of the one, and gain of the other, and is entirely benevolent in its operations; it also embraces a provision for Married Women to insure the lives of their husbands for any amount, the premium of which shall not exd $300 per annum, and is secured to them against any demands in law, of creditors.

The greatest partion of society, who by daily exertions of in ustry carn support, as artistas and me sanies, deriving livelihood from personal labor and skill, seldom resors to Life Insurance, in any numbers for a future provision for their families, though to none would it be so important as to then, who by sickness and death, may in a day, leave those nearest and dearest to them in poverty. To men in accountile pursuits and those in professional historical every rank and class, or those who have uncertain or small incomes, and who are most nu ngrous in wealth in the aggregate and have it in their power to provide against the vicisnave it in ment power to provide against the vicis-situdes they are constantly exposed to, Life Insu-rance is also of the utinot inoportance; they, and those in lower circumstances, are often deterred from entering into contracts of insurance, as the advantages uppear remide—being contingent on death, or ability to pay the premiums.

To assist all such, this Matant Benefit society so arranges the payment of the premiums, and of returns 10 part of the same, as to enable all persons to be come members, and enjoy its adventages while living; thus protecting themselves in life, and providing for their families of or their death; 'u this way a short life may obtain, and leave to seire, the benefit of a long one.

This Company will grant in excances on lives, on to the amount thus insured, deducting therefrom the balance remaining of weekly payments, with interest, for the current year. No risk will be taken on a single life for more than $5,000, and taken on a single life for more than $5,000, until the profits of the Company amount to $50,000, and the profits of the Company amount to $50,000, and the profits of the Company amount to $50,000 and the profits of the Company amount to $50,000 and the profits of the Company; the credit which policies will give to men in trade, the gain it may be cless will give to men in trade, estimated profits, bearing interest at 0 per cent estimated profits, bearing interest at 0 per cent.—Whenever the accumulation of nett profits of the Company shall exceed the sum of $200,000, the excess may be applied from year to year, or semi-annually thereafter, towards the redemption of each year's certificates of scrip, in whole or in part, as may be determined on by the board of distance of the control of t part, as may be nevertinged on by the serio first is-rectors, priority to be given to the serio first is-sued. The insured may horrow from the Company on his scrip, two thirds of the amount of the same at any time, which will enable him to use a portion of his profits for the payment of his annual premium, even before the redemption of the scrip.

All classes of persons will thus be admitted and enabled to meet the premiums, and have the gain of the Savings Bank, with the profit on a large business, by an actual small investment or outlay

All claims for insurance will be paid three months after satisfactory evidence of the death of the persons deceased is exhibited and approved.

Should it any time be desirable for a person to sell his policy, where it is for life, the Company will p reluse the same at an equitable rate.

Parties insured at the table rates of premiums, Parties insured at the came rates of premiums, are not to pass south of the Southern line of Virginia and Kentucky, or east of the Mississippi River, between the first day of June and first day of November; but can visit any part of the Uni-ted States or Northern British Provinces, between the first of November and first of June. By the payment of an extra premium, insurances can be effected by persons who desire to reside South during the interdicted time.

What can licitor illustrate the wise disposition of the Supreme Being, in the varying term of hi-man life, than the certainty of the general liws that regulate its ducation, and the reflections that axise from the contemplation of these laws operating constantly upon the human race? Life Insurance then rests upon the simple fact, that every surance there is so upon the simple fact, marevery individual of the human race has, at the period of his birth, a certain term of existence, which he will live through, or what is called the mean duration, or expectation of life at birth.

It is a question how such term of existence, or mean duration, is found. This is done simply by taking the number of years that have been lived through by a p rty from birth to death, and also of 1000 others born at the same time, and dying at all ages from 1 to 100 years old—the number of years thus lived by each person is added into one sum and being divided by the number of persons, the mean duration of the life of man is ascertained.

If it were found on trial, that on taking the result of the lives of 1,000 or 10,000 individuals, and deducing the mean duration; and then going through to same process with like numbers, and the mean duration of the latter differed widely from the farmer, it would be to no purpose to follow out experiments: but this is not the fact, and viduals, each of 1000, living in the same country, and a great many much less than can be bough and of similar occupations, have each a period of mean duration, which differs only a trifle from that of the other body. Apply this to insurance on life in the same body of persons; they pay a small sum or premium, annually, and the office, or small sum or premium, annually, and the office, or Company, agrees to pay them annually a profit, and a certain sum at the death of each; as, by example, the average expectancy of life is found by experience, to be of a personia health of 25 years, life years more; and of 40 years 28 years longer; then by the tables of rates, the first has to pay then by the tables of rates, the first has to pay new citren 28 cts; preserved ginger $1.1. per jar, see 10.00 to be paid to his wife or children after his and all kinds of confectionary cheaper than they death; the second pays $32, to insure the same; have ever been sold at any other store in t wn, at then taking the gain of interest, and other items, wholesale and retail, always fresh and of the finthal make up the profits on Mutual Benefits, it is est quality; for the truth of this we wish every almost certain the amount of $1000 insured will one to come and judge for themselves. be much increased, when in the end it is to be paid to his heirs, all which is firmly established by the much increased, when in the end it is to be paid to his heirs, all which is firmly established by people to my store to disappoint them, but a plain people to my store to disappoint them, but a plain of the statement of facts, which all may a scertain by call-statement of facts, which all may a scertain by call-the facts of experience. Hyer's Pills. The American Improved Hygeian Vegetable cdiene.

This medicine makes no pretensions to miracu-lous powers, the raising of the dead, or to im-mense and astounding sales daily and hourly, af-ter the most approved method of the times; but bases all its claims upon plain common sense prin-ciples, as a simple an to asture in restoring the human system to its proper tone and action, when by carelessness or unavoidable circumstances it has become deranged or debilitated, and asks simply a faithful triat as a test of its curative properties.— During the last twenty years it has worked its way into extensive use, woully upon its own merits, by commendation from individual to individual, not having been advertised for more than twelve years till within the past few months -- save occasionally in a journal of which the present proprietor is Editor. The increasing demand, however, has measurably compelled greater attention to its business, and agencies are now being established throughout the country.

A faithful trial of a half dollar or dollar package is almost certain to secure use in every family where it is introduced, where medicine is needed. The undersigned has used it in his own family for the undersigned has used a fit mis own raining for more than filteen years—has knowledge of its ap-proved use in many others, (for periods varying from months to fifteen or sixteen years,) as their only medicine, and knows it to be valuable in most of the complaints incident to the human system. But a long or extravagant commendation is not designed or needed here. Ten thousand mere assertions in its favor will not make it valuable, or satisfy reasonable persons without a trial; for the proof, after all, must lie in the use of it. Try it, then.
